

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Launchit Solutions Completes Amalgamation of the Launchit Group of Companies

Hamilton, ON – August 2, 2024 – Launchit Solutions Inc. ("LSI") announced today the completion of a corporate amalgamation, bringing together seven related companies under a single, unified entity. Doceo Inc., Launchit DTx Inc., Launchit Ventures Inc., Lumedi Inc., Medical Weight Management Centre of Canada Inc., Otium Regulatory Inc., and Webility Solutions Inc. have formally amalgamated to form Launchit Solutions Inc., effective August 2, 2024. This consolidation marks a pivotal milestone in the company's evolution, aligning its portfolio of complementary health technology products and services under one roof to better serve clients and accelerate impact across the healthcare ecosystem.

The seven predecessor companies represent years of deliberate portfolio building in digital health - spanning venture studio services, digital therapeutics, regulatory affairs software, medical education, chronic disease management, clinical data, and healthcare web solutions. By uniting these capabilities, LSI is positioned to offer an integrated, end-to-end platform for healthcare organizations looking to navigate the full lifecycle of digital health innovation, from ideation and regulatory strategy to product development and commercialization.

"This amalgamation is the natural next step in our journey," said Jamie Harsevoort, CEO of Launchit Solutions Inc. "We built each of these companies with a shared purpose — to make the healthcare system work better through technology. Bringing them together as Launchit Solutions means we can deliver on that purpose more effectively and with greater cohesion than ever before. Our clients now have access to the full depth of what we've built, all through a single, trusted partner."

The newly formed Launchit Solutions Inc. will continue to operate all existing product lines and services under its consolidated structure, with no disruption to clients or partners. The company remains headquartered in Hamilton, Ontario, and will continue to grow its capabilities across Canada and internationally.
